ANYONE FOR CAMPING?—An estimated 300 families, with an average 4.3 persons per family, are attending the 1974 Ohio State Association of the National Campers and Hikers Association Spring Seminar. The purpose of the seminar is for the state officers to explain the duties of offices to local club officers. While adults meet 9:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Saturday, the 119 teenagers and 93 pre-teens will have separate activities. Catholic and Protestant church services are also conducted. The 23 member families of the Roundtown Roamers are hosting the event, according to Wes Edstrom Jr., president. The seminar is at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

Glenn, Metzenbaum Continue Rivalry

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A complaint to the Senate Select Committee on Standards and Complaints about an abuse of Congress' free mailing privilege against U.S. Sen. Howard Metzenbaum by his opponent in the May primary was dismissed as "trivial," the senator's office announced.

The committee concluded the 23-point charge "lacks merit," according to a statement released Friday by Metzenbaum's Washington office.

The complaint was filed by William R. White of Columbus, treasurer of the campaign for John Glenn, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senate.

"We filed the complaint and we still think it is valid," said Steve Kovacic, Glenn's campaign coordinator.

The statement added that Metzenbaum later paid $92.50 to cover the cost of mailing biographies to the news media, the basis of the complaint.

Both Glenn and Metzenbaum courted labor votes Friday.

Metzenbaum breakfasted with Cuyahoga County labor leaders who endorsed his candidacy. The Ohio AFL-CIO has already announced its backing of the incumbent.

Glenn, meanwhile, added two more unions to his list of those which defected from the main labor camp. Local 141 of the United Plant Guard Workers of America at Mansfield and the Plasterers Union in Cleveland pledged their support to Glenn.

Gov. John J. Gilligan's reelection organization filed its second voluntary financial statement Friday.

Between Oct. 1, 1973 and April 8, it listed expenditures as $148,420 and receipts totaling $287,785. The balance was listed as $119,365.

Major contributors included the Ohio State Council of Machinists, $8,000, and $3,000 each from Louis Goldman of Dayton, John Kessler of Columbus, George Deffet and Rose Deffet of Columbus.

Gilligan's primary opponent, James Nolan, urged the governor on Friday to fire the Strip Mine Reclamation Board of Review members for "completely ignoring their responsibilities under the law." He criticized a recent ruling by the board which allowed a stripper to work a hill overlooking the Belmont County town of Crescent.

Former Gov. James A. Rhodes accused Gilligan of allowing state agencies to duplicate services and waste taxpayers' dollars.

Rhodes, in a three-way primary against Rep. Charles Fry, R-75 Springfield, and Columbiana County Engineer Bert Dawson, said during a conference in Youngstown he'd make state government more efficient.

Dawson, meanwhile, claimed the endorsement of Sen. Donald "Buz" Lukens, R-4 Middletown, a former Congressman and Young Republican leader.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown assured Friday that voters left homeless because of tornadoes early this month would be permitted to vote at the polling places where they were registered.

Connally Linked With Milk Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — Watergate prosecutors are pondering whether to grant favorable treatment to indicted Texas lawyer Jake Jacobsen in return for testimony against former Treasury Secretary John B. Connally, according to an informed source.

Jacobsen is prepared to switch his testimony and swear that Connally took $10,000 for helping a giant dairy-farmer cooperative, provided the government will reduce felony charges against Jacobsen to misdemeanors, the source said.

Connally, considered a contender for the 1976 Republican presidential nomination, couldn't be reached for comment. He has denied consistently that he received the $10,000.

Jacobsen's lawyer, Charles McNelis, would neither confirm nor deny the report that his client is offering to testify against Connally. Previously, McNelis denied that Jacobsen had recanted his testimony that Connally refused to take the money.

Jacobsen, contacted at his home in Austin, Tex., said he would "make absolutely no comment. That is what my lawyer instructed me to do."

Jacobsen has been indicted for perjury and accused of lying when he said the $10,000 lay in a safe-deposit box for 2½ years because Connally refused to take it. Sources have reported that serial numbers on the bills show they could not have been in circulation at the time Jacobsen swears he put them in the box.

Now a source reports that Jacobsen is offering to say that Connally took $5,000 in May 1971 after helping dairymen get an increase in federal milk price supports, and another $5,000 in March 1972 after telephoning Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell about an antitrust suit against Jacobsen's client, Associated Milk Producers Inc.

The source said Connally gave $10,000 back to Jacobsen after the matter came under federal investigation, and later replaced that cash with older bills, all printed before Connally had taken office as Treasury secretary.

Jacobsen stashed the money in a bank safe-deposit box, the source said. Jacobsen swore to a Watergate grand jury that it had been there all along.

Dayan Hints All-Out War On Syria

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan says Israel is free to attack Syria without restraint following the first dogfights over the Golan Heights since the October Middle East war.

Dayan appeared on state television Friday warning that United States Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger "may find a battlefield here instead of a negotiating table" when he arrives later this month in hopes of working out a troop disengagement plan.

As Syrian and Israeli jets battled on Friday, ground fighting escalated on the Golan.

Syria claimed seven Israeli jets were shot down in dogfights over Mt. Hermon and anti-aircraft guns knocked out 10 others.

Israel claimed it downed two Syrian planes and lost two of its own, the first Israeli air losses since the October war.

Syrian officials said as many as 50 Israeli fighters and fighter-bombers were involved in the action on Friday, but they did not say how many Syrian planes saw action over the 100-mile enclave Israel captured in the October war. It was the second straight day of Syrian air attacks over the territory.

Witnesses said an Israeli Phantom jet crashed in Lebanese territory in the Bekaa Valley. The Syrian military command later reported one of its Israeli pilots died. The other was reported seriously injured.

Witnesses also reported seeing a Syrian MIG 21 crash in Lebanon near Louzeh.

The Israeli command said Syrian planes bombed and strafed Israeli positions in the southern Golan sector while Israeli fighters hit Syrian positions on Mt. Hermon on the Lebanese-Syrian border. The peak commands a view in all directions and the battle for the summit has raged for more than a week.

Weather

Sunny, windy and warm today, high mid 70s. Fair tonight, low, low 50s. Increasing cloudiness, windy and continued warm Sunday. Chance of afternoon and evening showers and thunderstorms. High Sunday near 80. Probability of precipitation, zero per cent today, 10 per cent tonight and 30 per cent tomorrow. Temperatures Friday were: high, 66; low, 34.

Connally said the same thing.

Last Nov. 27 Jacobsen opened the safe-deposit box in an Austin bank in the presence of an FBI agent, who noted the serial numbers on the bills.

Two sources have said that a check with federal bank records revealed that the bills had not been in cir-ulation at the time Jacobsen said he put them into the box, despite Connally's alleged attempts to get circulated bills.

Jacobsen also is charged with conspiracy, perjury and misapplication of funds in a Texas savings-and-loan scandal.

Buffalo Burgers Said Selling Well In Chicago Area

CHICAGO (AP) — In these days of rising prices, what does a grocery chain use as an item to lure shoppers back to its meat counters?

Try buffalo meat.

National Tea stores in the Chicago area are offering buffalo burger at prices higher than sirloin steak this weekend, and Bob Fortmann, regional director of meat operations for National Tea, says reports indicate "customer reaction has been outstanding."

About 120 stores are offering buffalo meat — ground burger at $1.49 a pound, stew meat at $1.59, roast at $1.79 and steak at $1.98. Beef sirloin is on special at $1.39 a pound.

"There is an awful, awful lot of interest," Fortmann said Friday. "I believe we're going to run out."

He said he expected to sell some 100,000 pounds during the weekend. The meat is leaner and sweeter than beef.

Fortmann said it's the first time in more than a century that buffalo meat has been available to Chicagoans other than at a restaurant or two which offer select fare.

"The modern housewife is always looking for something different to try," he said. "It's not an everyday item."

Wind, Rain, Hail Hammer Mid-U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thunderstorms cut a swath of wind, rain and hail across the middle of the nation from the Dakotas to southern Oklahoma today.

East of the storm center, skies were generally fair and temperatures mild. In the West, locally heavy snow was expected in the northern Rockies, and rain washed the Pacific Northwest.

The swollen Souris River at Minot, N.D., caused some 3,000 families to seek refuge on higher ground as the river neared its crest. There were doubts that the dikes could hold. Mobile homes were being pulled away by farm tractors pressed into action.

The National Guard was ordered out to provide security in the evacuated areas.

The Army Corps of Engineers began cutting the river's channel at two points where it winds through the center of the city to reduce the expected crest. Gas and electricity lines to a 10-block area of the flood plain were cut off and more areas were to be disconnected later.

Although rain and thunderstorms swept across North Dakota Friday night, a National Weather Service spokesman at Bismarck said there was no immediate danger of a heavy rain.

Lake Diversion, Tex., was pelted with golf-ball size hailstones during the night and Lake Kickapoo, Tex., was buffeted by winds up to 60 mile per hour. Rainfall throughout the storm region generally was less than one inch.

Tornado watches were common Friday night from northern Texas to southern South Dakota. Tornadoes were sighted late Friday afternoon in the Texas Panhandle at Borger and Amarillo. No injuries were reported.

High winds struck North Platte, Neb., causing some property damage. Dodge City, Kan., was whipped with 60 m.p.h. wind gusts in a thunderstorm, and outside the storm, gusts to 40 miles per hour were common across the Plains.

Temperatures before dawn dipped into the 20s and 30s in the Great Lakes region through the upper Ohio Valley and into the Northeast. Freeze warnings were in effect overnight for the interiors of New Jersey and Connecticut, where temperatures were expected to range between 25 and 30.

Convicts Still At Large In Rio After Big Escape

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Police sealed off the city of Rio de Janeiro today and patrolled in helicopters hoping to catch 21 convicts still at large after a daring daylight prison escape.

Authorities said 19 inmates were recaptured after the break at the Milton Idas Moreira penitentiary on Friday.

People panicked as the 40 inmates stormed into the crowded streets firing guns and commandeering automobiles.

Witnesses said some of the convicts pulled drivers from their cars and drove off, while others commandeered vehicles and drivers at gunpoint or knife-point.

"They came out shooting wildly," said the owner of a cafe across the street from the prison.

More than 1,400 policemen began a hunt for the convicts.

Authorities said at least three policemen, five convicts and three bystanders were killed during the escape and the recaptures.

One convict was wounded in a shootout with police at a school near the prison. A school official was wounded.

Several escapees were caught in a cemetery near the prison, two others at a church, and one was found disguised as a woman in the suburb of Bonsucesso, officials said.

Paulo Autran, a prison official, told newsmen several guards were being questioned about reports that they were bribed to help the prisoners escape.

Two guards were beaten during the escape.

A leader in the break, Antonio Cavalcante, told police after he was apprehended Friday night that guards supplied submachineguns, revolvers, knives and pieces of cloth used by prisoners to climb the prison walls.

Police placed barricades at all highways leading out of the city and guarded bus and train stations.

Prison escapes are not uncommon in Brazil. Overcrowding and antiquated facilities make prison security difficult.

Twenty-three armed prisoners broke out of Milton Idas Moreira prison last January.

Dandelion Control Affects Honeybees

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Dandelions and other lawn weeds will show up in your lawn this month. And spring herbicide treatments to control these weeds could damage your pollinating insect populations such as honeybees, says Lawrence Connor, extension entomologist at the Ohio State University.

Connor points out that the proper timing of the herbicide application often coincides with the bloom period of broadleaf weeds such as dandelion. Since dandelions are one of the first plants to bloom in the spring, honeybees are drawn to the flowers by the thousands.

Pesticides, including weed killers, can be damaging to honeybees, causing extreme losses to colonies of bees two and three miles away. If an insecticide is applied to a lawn with dandelion in bloom, considerable bee kill can result. And spring is when beekeepers can least afford such losses.

Connor explains, however, that herbicides have not been proven to kill bees in field tests, but they have been shown to injure bees in laboratory trials. Therefore, the threat of damage from weed killers is present when lawns are treated.

To avoid damage to bees, treat when they are not flying, he says. Bees are not active when the temperature is below 45 degrees F. or after 7 p.m. (EDT). After this time, most bees have gone to the hives for the night. Treatments applied at this time of day permits the pesticide to do its job, break down, and be less damaging to bees the following day, Connor says.

Another way to avoid damage to bees is to mow the flowers before treatment. Mowing the day before treatment will kill many flowers, making the area to be treated less attractive to bees.

If dandelions, clovers and other flowering plants can be controlled adequately in fields, athletic areas and parks with mowing, then spraying with herbicides may not be necessary. Suburban beekeeping is a popular activity and is increasing, because of increased environmental concern and for the home gardener's need for pollination purposes. There may be a colony or two of honeybees only a block away from you in a hedge row or wooded area, so help the beekeeper and the bees by controlling the time and conditions of your home lawn pesticide programs.

Have you seen an ad where brides are told that for $2.00 the firm will take care of changing their name on Social Security records? The address is a post office box in Cleveland. Girls, regardless of your age, if you just changed your name, all it takes to have your name changed on the records and get a new Social Security card is to spend 10c for a stamp. Attach your present card to a letter stating your maiden name, your new name, and address. Send it to the Social Security Administration, 606 Central Center, Chillicothe, and you will receive a new card with your new name and same number.

Don't forget to come to our all-county Extension homemakers meeting on April 29, 6:30 p.m. (registration and white elephant). The program "Put a Little Spring in Your Life" begins at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited.

I am now taking pre-registration for our in-depth school to be held at the Calvary United Methodist Church, 1-3 p.m., May 9, 16, and 23. Ohio State University specialists Norma Deyo and Orena Haynes will be teaching lessons on clothing, fabrics, selection, and care. You can come to one or all of the sessions. It isn't necessary to pre-register, but you would be sure to have a seat, name tag, and packet. This is a free workshop open to anyone.

"The process of aging is a matter of mind over matter — if you don't mind, it doesn't matter."

"Researchers note that the human body functions best at a temperature of 66 degrees F. It is more difficult for babies and older people to adjust to drastic temperature changes. Diabetes is more controllable in the tropics. Stress diseases — ulcers, some heart problems, hardening of the arteries — occur less often in warm climates."

"Some big city people seem worried that all the pesticides are sprayed on crops on the farms. Their own backyards might be more dangerous. According to a recent EPA study, 3-10 pounds of active pesticide ingredients are applied per acre annually on city residential land and an average of 1-2-3 pounds per acre for farmland each year."

Feel like you're working overtime? You probably are! A recent study at the University of Michigan shows that the average full-time homemaker is still working 53 hours a week. Sociologist Joann Vanek found that food preparation time dropped from 24.5 hours to 16 in the past 50 years, but family care, travel, and shopping time has greatly increased. Family care averaged 9.7 hours a week (up from 3.8).

Dieting? Aren't we all! A pound of body fat is equal to about 3500 calories. Eliminating 500 calories a day will result in a loss of one pound of fat in a week, on an average. It is generally considered by experts that a weight loss of two pounds a week is the most a person should lose to be safe and stay healthy. Calorie intake should not be less than 1000 a day for women, or 1500 per man.

What to do about hunger pangs? Some special diet foods (methylcellulose for instance) take up water and expand, filling the tummy and preventing hunger pangs and gurgles. But these may block the intestinal tract and they are not proven to be beneficial. Experts urge the dieter to use whole-grain cereal products, vegetables and fruits as a healthier way to "fill up."

Some of you younger "beginning" homemakers have requested an Extension club just for you, to center on the problem of children, budgeting, family relationships, and "beginning everything." I will have a first meeting for you beginners on Monday evening, May 6, at 7:00 p.m., at the Calvary United Methodist Church here in Circleville. We can get acquainted, discuss programs, a club name, etc. Come with ideas and enthusiasm!

Use Caution Around Anhydrous Ammonia

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent
Agriculture

About 25 per cent of the nitrogen fertilizer applied each spring in Ohio is anhydrous ammonia, and every year a few accidents happen. When you use anhydrous, remember that the "caution" sign is on the tanks for a reason.

Ammonia can cause freezing or caustic burns which take longer to heal than a regular fire burn, and eye exposure to ammonia can be even more critical. Liquid ammonia released into the atmosphere rapidly cools to 28 degrees below zero Fahrenheit.

Best thing to do when you're going to be transferring or applying anhydrous ammonia is to wear a face shield or tight fitting safety goggles and rubber gloves, according to William E. Gill, Extension Agricultural Engineer at The Ohio State University.

Be sure the equipment you're using is specifically designed for anhydrous ammonia, he says, and be sure the equipment is well maintained. Then, just as when using a gun, always assume the hose is loaded with liquid ammonia and use caution when handling.

If all this fails, and your skin is exposed to ammonia, you must act quickly to get water — lots of water — on the burn. Water is the best emergency first aid treatment, reveals

W. E. Stuckey, extension safety leader at Ohio State.

The reason for this is that ammonia can burn by dehydration, since it has a high affinity for water. When it gets on skin, it quickly soaks up water from the skin cells and thus creates a dehydration burn.

Seconds count, Stuckey emphasizes. Wash off the ammonia immediately and completely — using water for at least 15 minutes, or longer if there is any question about the removal of all the ammonia.

Have water available. The release of ammonia may occur when cleaning a plugged tube on the knives or a fouled screen. Have clean water handy and have enough. You may get a more severe burn if you stop to take off any clothing, so take them off after you are in the water or have applied it.

A five-gallon can of water can be mounted over the rear axle of the nurse tank on the applicator, and in the truck being used to pull tanks to the field.

When washing eyes, open and close the eye lids repeatedly under water so that all the ammonia is washed out from under the lids. If contact lenses are worn, take them out and wash the eye completely.

Absolutely no salves, ointments, greases or oils should be applied in an ammonia burn for at least 24 hours after exposure. Make sure the doctor knows this, Stuckey advises.

Farm Fuel Situation Seen Easing

Fewer states reported farm fuel situation problems for the week ending March 1 than for the previous week, according to Walton W. Spangler, executive director of the Pickaway County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

Fuel supplies locally appear adequate for farming needs.

Approximately one-half the states (26) reported gasoline supplies tight to very tight for the week ending March 1 compared with about two-thirds of the states a week earlier.

Diesel supplies were reported tight to very tight in 13 states, down from 20 states the previous week.

States continue to report fertilizer shortages, with nitrogen in shortest supply, Spangler said. Those states reporting shortages are essentially the same as two weeks ago. Nitrogen is short in 41 states, tight in 5; phosphate is short in 30 states and tight in 13; potash is short in 27, tight in 11; and mixed fertilizer is short in 26 states and tight in 17.

Farmers that have not made arrangements for their fertilizer needs should do so to avoid any delay in planting.

Soy-Beef Product 'Accepted'

Since it first appeared on supermarket shelves in March 1973, a blend of soybean product and ground beef has gained some acceptance with the American housewife.

Walton W. Spangler, executive director of the Pickaway County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, noted the soy-ground-beef sales research findings published in a recent report by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Economic Research Service (ERS). ERS ran a survey of three chains having more than 1,000 of the Nation's grocery stores.

The soy-beef product accounted for 26 per cent of ground beef sales in the stores during a 30 week survey period in 1973, said Mr. Spangler. Soy-beef products — given fanciful names so they could not be confused with hamburger — contained 75 per cent beef and 25 per cent soy by weight.

"ERS said that most housewives probably were aware that they were buying an extended beef product because both advertising and product labels made a point of the soy content," said Spangler. "So the major motivation to buy was evidently price."

The blend usually was priced 15 to 20 cents under hamburger. The blend's price ranged from 69 cents to well over $1 a pound. However, during weeks of high meat prices, from April to September, sales of the soy-beef blend dropped when the blend's cost was less than 10 cents per pound below the price of hamburger.

container near the bottom but not on the bottom. Place a hemp bag around the container with a cord for hanging.

The volume of the container should be at least two quarts. Anything less dries out rapidly and you're stuck with daily watering chores.

Put the petunia basket where it will get at least six hours of direct sunlight daily. This could be a porch, window or out by the entrance to your home.

You can make up as many of these as you want or have space for, or how about a window box?

Wool Payments Not Necessary On '73 Marketing

The U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) announced that there will be no payments made to growers on their 1973 sales of wool. The USDA explained that payments are unnecessary because the price received by growers in the marketplace for wool last year was higher than the support level established for wool for 1973 under the National Wool Act of 1954, as amended.

The National average price of 82.7 cents a pound received by all producers who sold wool in 1973 was 10.7 cents above the support level of 72 cents a pound.

The 1974 support price is 72 cents a pound for wool, the same as for 1973. The average price received by producers during the first three months of 1974 are 72.5 cents a pound for wool.

This is the first year in the history of the Wool Act in which market prices for wool have exceeded support prices. In recent years, annual payments on wool and unshorn lambs under this program have ranged from about $50 to $100 million.

And So It Grows

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent
Agriculture

If you're a beginner at gardening, and no doubt many homeowners will be this year, you're probably wondering what vegetables to grow. Normally, when one grows vegetables for family use, only those vegetables family members like are planted. But, the newcomer to gardening may want to limit his first experience to corn, snap beans, peas, tomatoes, radishes, squash and the like.

Of course space will determine what you grow, too. If you have only a small 10 x 10 foot spot in the backyard, only those plants that take up little space should be planted. For example, 4 or 5 tomato plants, if staked, take up very little of your space, and this number of plants will provide plenty of fresh tomatoes for a family of five. Other vegetables could include a row or two of snap beans (bunch), a couple of rows of limas, 3 or 4 feet of a row in leaf lettuce, the same amount in radishes, and 4 or 5 pepper plants - sweet, hot or both. Then if you have any space left, plant a few onions, carrots and beets, or maybe some cabbages.

You'll have to decide for yourself how much of your lawn to dig up and plant to garden. Vining crops such as cucumber, squash, melon, etc. take more space.

If you have never done any gardening, better go by your local county Extension Service office and ask for a copy of Bulletin 287, Home Vegetable Gardening. It gives step by step instructions for garden spot selection, soil preparation, row and seeding distances and other cultural practices for growing vegetables.

If your vegetables take up all the space you can spare in the yard, you might want to grow some petunias in hanging baskets. You can buy plants at your local garden center. A good one to buy is Pink Cascade. It's a bright, rose-pink with a yellow throat. Pink Cascade was developed to produce flowers up to five inches on branches that cascade over the flower bed or out of a hanging basket.

You can make your hanging basket out of most anything available - like a gallon-size plastic milk container. But you'll have to add some drainage holes. Use a large nail or sharp pointed knife to make 3/8 inch holes, spaced an inch or two apart on the sides of the

Checkless Society

Much has been written about the cashless society of the future, and the bizarre ways in which everyday business transactions will be conducted. That future is now beyond the conjecture stage and well into the planning phases.

Discussed now are such possibilities as remote banking stations—located in office buildings and perhaps on the streets as telephone booths now are—where patrons can withdraw cash from their accounts through machines into which they insert a plastic credit card, tap a secret combination on the machine, and if their account balance is satisfactory, out will come the cash.

There are many variations of this setup, some projected for stores.

What such an instant credit system if widely installed could do to the currency of the nation, and what legal problems could arise, are two of many areas yet to be fully explored, but new concepts of cash and credit automation seem to be definitely in the works.

Backers of the various proposals say whatever the problems of a checkless society, they will be minor compared to the advantages to the consumer, the businessman and the bank.

32 Years After

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

OAKLAND, CALIF. — Some memories of Ted Lawson's book and motion picture, "Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo," on the 32nd anniversary of the Doolittle raid. Ted lost a leg as a result of an out-of-gas ditching of his B-25 "The Ruptured Duck," off the coast of China. He and the pilot's seat he was strapped to shot through the narrow windshield from the sheer shock of hitting the water with both engines dead. He recovered semiconsciousness seated upright under the water that reached toward a Chinese beach on which he was trying to land after a grindingly tense flight from the deck of the carrier Hornet, ten or 12 hours earlier. He recalls that he felt peacefully drowsy but that he must attend to something as quickly as possible. He was drowning, of course. Near death, the discipline of having a job to perform prevailed. He unstrapped himself from his seat, inflated his Mae West, rose to the surface, and the surf washed him up on the beach. His face was smashed in and his left leg deeply cut from knee to thigh. It had scraped across his headphones hook as he catapulted out. Chinese guerrillas found him and his battered crew, saved them from the nearby Japanese.

If he hadn't died on the bottom he would die later of gangrene while friendly Chinese carried him by litter, junk, cart, sedan chair, whatnot, to a primitive inland "hospital" that didn't have even an aspirin, much less a proper operating room. There, miraculously, the only flight doctor on the Doolittle raid (his plane had also crashed) showed up and set about the job of amputating.

The anesthetic—spinal—had to be carried on foot by a Chinese runner from an unoccupied town, days away.

"I said to Doc that I guessed it wouldn't be so bad, with it off," Ted said. "It would be something like wearing a shoe with a high instep," he guessed.

"Doc didn't answer, and for the first time I knew that he was going to take more than my foot and ankle. I told him now, after I swallowed, that I wanted to be sure he took it off well below the knee.

"Doc was busy thinking about something else. He didn't answer. Then he said, 'Well, above the knee. I'll leave you as much as I can.' It was hard to take that. Awful hard."

The working title MGM gave Dalton Trumbo's script of the book was "Aeronautical Engineer," to conceal its true nature from other studios. The original title of the book was "For Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo." But a stern censor at the Pentagon knocked off the "For." He decided that it was defeatist; that it questioned the wisdom or the effectiveness of the mission. (It had taken only 30 seconds for "The Ruptured Duck" to make its bomb run, so closely positioned were its targets.)

They'll Do It Every Time

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Recently I have read articles and heard Ohio citizens talk down the Division of Wildlife, and The Department of Natural Resources. I could detect a lack of understanding of the Division of Wildlife budget process. I'm not going to pretend to be an expert on the subject. It's really a complicated process at best. However, I would like to point out some things we sportsmen pay for with our license dollars that many feel should be funded by the state's general fund. If they were, we'd certainly be getting a lot more for our hunting and fishing dollar!

The Wildlife Fund provides the money necessary to carry out fish and wildlife programs, plus the enforcement of conservation laws. The money and this fund comes from the sale of fishing, hunting and trapping license. In 1973-74 this will amount to around $6 million. No, and I repeat, no general fund money goes into the Wildlife Fund.

In 1970 I wrote a letter to the Department of Natural Resources requesting them to dredge the canal West of Circleville, to provide a better fishing and recreation area. The reply I received indicated it would cost $180,000.00 for this project and money was not available.

The $6 million that will be in the fund in fiscal 1973-74 must pay for all activities of the Wildlife Division. It must finance 100 per cent of the sections of Game, Fisheries and Law Enforcement. Yet, many of the activities of all three of these sections are of direct benefit of the entire citizenry of the state, not just sportsmen.

A prime example in the fisheries section if the administration of the commercial fishery and the management of commercial fish species. Commercial fishing licenses provide only limited revenue, much less than is needed to carry out the program. Who pays? The Sportsman! Who eats the fish? The public!

There are many, many more activities which benefit the public. Numerous programs paid for by the sportsman which benefit everyone else in the state. There is the management of non-hunted species of birds and mammals, hawks, owls, doves and etc. Considerable time is spent by the division, in cooperation with other agencies and universities, in monitoring wildlife diseases which are communicable to humans and domestic livestock. Investigations are likewise conducted into chemical poisoning as it relates to human consumption.

Hiking and cross-country ski trails have been developed on state game areas, lands purchased by hunters. Berry pickers, mushroom hunters, bird watchers, hikers, horseback riders, and motorized vehicle users have all been welcomed to these areas by hunters. And these groups found the areas so much to their liking that they now want to drive their hosts—the hunters—away.

Dear Editor:

We wish to express our thanks to the Tarlton Fire Department for their quick response Tuesday evening. Without their efficient action we're certain that our loss would have been greater.

Many responded with their help and thank you one and all. We didn't care to be the first to use the equipment recently purchased to remove smoke from the house but it helped greatly. We are fortunate in having such an active fire department.

Thank You,

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Viruses are beginning to yield more and more of their secrets to the onslaught of scientific study.

Many encouraging results of treatment for leukemia, immune deficiencies, shingles, some forms of cancer, and herpes were reported at a recent convention of virologists in New York City.

The treatment of the common cold with a nasal spray of interferon was greeted with enthusiasm at the convention. Interferon is a complex substance in the blood which has, in recent years, been studied as an antiviral agent.

Another important highlight of the meeting was the possibility that a more effective flu vaccine may soon be developed.

Years of concentrated study by a vast group of scientists now seem to be paying off dividends for the control and cure of viral infections that have so long resisted treatment.

As an adjunct to the knowledge of viruses, now comes the added information that soon vaccines may be synthetically made by the chemist.

The use of synthetic vaccines to immunize against disease is already being tried in experimental animals.

There are many advantages to the chemical manufacture of vaccine because it is easier to manufacture and may have greater purity.

Dr. Michael Sela, of the Weizmann Institute in Israel, outlined this concept. He is now spending a year at the National Institutes of Health in the United States to continue this exciting work in the synthetic production of vaccine.

At the Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center in New York City, a brilliantly devised electronic instrument is now being used in heart surgery.

The device can actually guide the surgeon in the study of the electrical system within the deep recesses of the heart.

Dr. Brian F. Hoffman and a large team of scientists have added this complex system for greater advantages and safety to complicated cases of open heart surgery.

The ingenuity of such creations defy the imagination.

Woman Seeks Help Over Missing Son

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The mother of a young Norfolk sailor missing since Dec. 26 has made a plea to the public for information that will assist the Navy in changing his technical status as a deserter.

The bodies of Edward A. Ferrara and Francis D. Keegan, her son's roommates, were recovered in March some three months after they were the apparent victims of a boating accident off East Ocean View.

But Jeffrey L. Waits, 18, is still missing and the Navy, lacking what it calls "a reasonable assumption of death," is constrained to carry him in a desertation status.

9 Steel Firms Named In Suit On Price-Fix

HOUSTON (AP) — Nine steel companies were accused Thursday by the state of Texas of price fixing in the sale of reinforcing steel.

The federal court civil action alleges violation of antitrust laws and seeks damages of "at least tens of millions of dollars."

A similar civil and criminal action filed earlier by the federal government named the same defendants.

Named defendants were United States Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Armco Steel, Border Steel Rolling Mills, Inc., of El Paso, the Ceco Corp. of Chicago, Laclede Steel Co. of St. Louis, Schindler Bros. Steel of Sealy, Structural Metals, Inc., of Seguin, and Texas Steel Co. of Fort Worth.

The state suit alleges the defendants have conspired since 1969 to fix prices through "rigged and collusive bids." The petition says the Texas Highway Department alone in 1971 purchased 86,000 tons of reinforcing steel from the defendant firms.

The court was asked to require that defendant firms owning both mills and fabricating facilities be ordered to divest themselves of the fabricating facilities so as to permit open competition in the sale and distribution of reinforcing steel materials in Texas.

Hill said the reinforcing bar sales under the allegedly illegal arrangement among the companies totaled more than $20 million in 1971 alone.

The suit alleges that beginning in 1969 the firms agreed to divide the market among them and collude in the rigging of bids.

It also said some independent fabricators and dealers, not associated with any of the mills, were part of the conspiracy and might be named later as defendants.

Mrs. Joyce M. Waits of Wilmington, Ohio, says she hopes to link her son with his two roommates.

"Someone may have seen the three of them together on that evening," she said in telephone interview Friday. "If so, they can be of great help in getting his status changed."

Jeff Waits enlisted in the Navy shortly after his 17th birthday on July 4, 1972. He was sent to electronics school in Memphis, then assigned to a helicopter squadron at Norfolk.

He spent Christmas Day with his mother's brother in Hampton, Va., who brought Jeff back that evening and chatted with all three boys before leaving.

The following evening, Norfolk police received a call from a resident in East Ocean View that three men appeared to be in trouble in a boat offshore.

The Coast Guard was notified and sent a 41-foot cutter to search by flares until midnight.

Police checked ramps and marinas but no boat was reported overdue.

On Dec. 28, Capt. James A. Mulligan discovered a 14-foot aluminum boat floating upside down. The boat had been reported missing from a spot not far from the boys' Surf Side Motel apartment. The drain plug was missing.

Ferrara's body was discovered off Thimble Shoals in early March, and Keegan's body was found a few days later.

The "desertion" status came automatically after 30 days.

"We're in complete sympathy with Mrs. Waits and hope someone will come forward with a statement," a Navy spokesman said.

Court Upholds Liquor Decision

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court today upheld Ohio's liquor law provision that allows the State Department of Liquor Control to reject a renewal application for good cause.

Starlite Restaurant and Lounge Inc. of Cleveland had challenged the law as being vague and indefinite and unconstitutional.

The liquor department had refused to renew the club's license in 1968-69 on the basis of seven violations between Oct. 12, 1958 and Dec. 1, 1967.

Traffic is now so bad in once-isolated Lapland that herdsmen are fitting their reindeer with small reflectors which shine in headlight beams. More than 1,000 reindeer reportedly are killed by cars each year.

From what I hear the hippety hoppety fellow made it all over town and bestowed lots of his goodies on all the good youngsters — young and old. It was an Easter celebration and birthday time both at the Gene and Dorothy Bush household. Guests were Pat and Diana Bush Eycke and two dolls Danielle and Christy from Chillicothe, Ron (birthday boy) and Marilyn Bush and enterprising young sons Tim and Mike. Also having an April birthday is Dorothy.

Another April birthday celebrant is Buddy Adams who was honored guest when his mother Mrs. Viola Adams entertained with a carry-in dinner at her home. Enjoying the day were Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Schwalbach, Bonnie and Lori Ann, Mrs. Ethel King, Brian and Nathan Adams, Connie Adams, Kim Deanne and Judy Schwalbach, Mrs. Ruth Schwalbach, David L. Adams and Robbie Lee Adams, Miss Nancy Ayres and Miss Terry Campbell.

Party here, party there is the way it has been. Last Thursday evening it was a birthday party for Leticia Brasillero, foster exchange student daughter of Carl and Nancy Reichelderfer down Logan Elm way. Among the guests were Alejandro Garces, Martha Marquez, Maria Arguello, Maria Ramos and Steve Wynn from our locale. The young people all attended the "groovy" dance held at Logan Elm first, then went to the Reichelderfers. The girls overnights with Leticia and returned to their respective homes on Friday.

On Tuesday evening the birthday girl was Martha Marquez, foster exchange student daughter of David and Marabel Drummond. Her party was a surprise to her and she really was, too. Having a fun evening ('twas a carry-in dinner type party by the way) were Paul (whoses back is still giving him discomfort) and Louise Drummond. Karen, Susan and Jerry of near Clarksburg, Marvie baby and his Dolly Thompson, Brad, Shirley and their exchange student foster son Alejandro Garces, Teresa "T-Bird" Graffis and her exchange student foster sister Maria Cristina Ramos, Mom Easterday, Becki, Amy and exchange student foster daughter Maria Martha Arguello, Steve Wynn and the Drummond siblings Connie, Sandee and Joy Lynn. During the party Martha received a call from her family in Bogata, Colombia, wishing her a happy eighteenth.

Marion and Kathryn Metzger Carter and daughters Diana and Barbara left Sunday to return to their Wayzata, Minnesota home after a spring break vacation with family and friends in this area. The feminine Carters drove in on April 11 and Marion arrived last Thursday by plane at Port Columbus. While here they were wine and dined by a number of hosts. They spent much time with Tom and Mae Carter, Carl and Mary Gearheart, Bob and Pat Metzger, Lori and Crystal, Byron and Ethel Carter, Chari and Lisa (Circlevillites). Diana was guest soloist at the Williamsport United Methodist Church during Palm Sunday services. She has a lovely voice and has been the recipient of many awards.

Mrs. Inez Lingo returned home Tuesday after a nice Easter holiday with her daughter Mrs. Fern Mellinger of Wooster. Mrs. M. drove down Friday and got her mother and the two of them went to Kettering where they were joined by Mrs. Calvin (June Mellinger) Hites and daughters Stacey and Tonya for the drive to Wooster. They all came back to our village where the Hites gals were met by Calvin for the homeward journey to Kettering.

Mrs. Una Higman, who is preparing for a real family affair in a few weeks when her Navy career boy Harlan comes home after a long time of being out of duty, spent a fairly quiet Easter Sunday. Daughter Judy (Mrs. Richard) Speakman of Clarksburg was an afternoon caller.

Many families enjoy getting together and it takes very little to make it an occasion so when it is Easter you can bet they will be together and that's how it was for Charlie and Esther Picklesimer and Faith Ann. Making it a family day were Brad and Donna Thompson and kindergarten charmer Marci of near our town, Mike and Gail Stauffer and handsome sons Brent and Andy of Kinnikinick, Dave and Janet Lovett and good looking Trent of Athens.

Young Trent had just been discharged from the hospital and is on the recuperation road after being quite ill. The Lovetts were Saturday overnight guests of mom and Charlie. Completing the family portrait were second son Johnny Stant and his bride Vickie.

Easter dinner guests in our home were some of my favorite people — my mother Mrs. Earl Hardman of Chillicothe, Mrs. Mary Alice Greenwood, Mrs. Edna Newhouse of our town, and Michael E. McCain of Roundtown (he is a favorite of another member of the Easterday family, too). Easter with its big meal, candy, Easter eggs, baskets, Easter bunny and little gifts was a completely new way of life for all our young folks in the exchange program. The only thing we have in common is the religious celebrating of Easter Sunday. They each enjoyed our extra twist to the holiday, I might add.

Hey, hey, ho, ho it's mushroom time again and a local mushroom picker of long standing Betty Bilek found 150 of the mouthwatering morsels the other day.

Thursday proved to be a jolly good day for Alejandro, Maria, Martha, Maria Cristina, Martha, Dolly T. and yours truly. Bright and early we set out for Cincinnati and Mount St. Joseph College. Seeing a likely spot where a mushroom or two might decide to be we stopped for Dolly to have a look-see but without any success. Lots of beautiful scenery so the "kids" took many pics.

We had a quickie tour at Kings Island then went into Cincy where we had lunch at a new Duff's Smorgasbord. It was on to the Mount where Maria Martha had conference with the director of admissions. She (Maria) is hopeful of returning to the states in the fall to attend MSJ. Leaving the school we crossed over into Kentucky and meandered around for a while. We went to the Quality Inn's Riverview restaurant which is on the eighteenth floor so everyone could see a large chunk of Cincy and Covington.

Well, would you believe the floor was the revolving type and three of us had a vertigo attack almost to the point of passing out—what a mess! Feeling somewhat embarrassed we departed the scene. Now we are on the freeway headed for home and what should happen but the driver of the car has her right hand through the steering wheel "piddling" with the keys in the ignition and gets her forefinger caught in the key ring and it won't come out.

The car is brought to a halt to the side of the freeway and after repeated attempts (amidst gales of laughter from all those who have no show of sympathetic concern for the poor victim) the finger is finally disengaged from the key ring. The question is: Will this deter the "victim" from playing with the keys? Answer: Not really since she was caught playing around again a short while after the incident. It's hard to teach an old dog new tricks, you know.

Impeachment TV Backed By Official

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Benjamin Hooks, Federal Communications Commissioner said Congress would have to decide if impeachment proceedings against President Nixon could be televised.

Hooks said he would favor televising the action if it were taken.

"This is purely a private opinion," Hooks said in a television interview here Friday.

The FCC would have no jurisdiction in the decision, he said.

Within minutes after they had left a florist truck delivered a bouquet of gorgeous red roses to Grandma B. They were a gift from another son who lives in Florida.

Easter dinner guests of the C's were Bill and Vallie Long, Jackie, Brett and Jeff of Darrtown, Jim and Norma Cochenour, Christal and Damon, Jack and Patti Brayshaw and Rick Brayshaw of this village.

Be with you again next week, be the Lord willin'. Take care.

Plans Finalized For Walk-A-Thon By Auxiliary

Ladies Auxiliary of Whisler Fire Department completed plans for a Walk-A-Thon to raise funds for the newly organized firefighters during the recent meeting at the firehouse.

George Bethel, president, presided over the business session. The walk is planned for 1 p.m., April 21, at the firehouse in Whisler. In case of rain the walk will be postponed until April 28. Sunday Dinner

Roast turkey with Mary Greene's dressing and gravy, potatoes, broccoli, jellied cranberry salad, cookies, beverage.

Mary Green's
Dressing

Our recipe tester makes this for her family.

1/4 cup margarine
2 cups chopped celery, including leafy tops
2 cups chopped onions
1/4 cup bacon fat
Cornbread, see below
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
1/4 teaspoon sage
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
1 egg
1 cup turkey broth

In a large skillet or saucepot in the margarine gently cook celery and onion until wilted; add bacon fat and stir until melted. Off heat stir in cornbread and seasonings; beat egg with broth and add; mix well. Use as stuffing for body and neck cavities of 16-pound turkey and roast.

Cornbread: Stir together 1 1/2 cups yellow cornmeal, 1 1/2 cups unsifted flour, 2 tablespoons baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 2 tablespoons sugar. Add 1 egg, 1 1/2 cups milk and 6 tablespoons melted bacon fat; beat until smooth. Bake in a greased 9-inch square cake pan in a preheated 425-degree oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean — 25 to 30 minutes. Cool and crumble.

Note: When you cook bacon, do so at low temperature so melted fat stays white; save fat, refrigerate and use in this recipe.

I'm fairly attractive, and I'm not hard up for dates. Maybe I'm foolish but I don't care for this woman, and I doubt that any son of hers could have

Licking County Man Sues Over Addiction

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — A Licking County man, jailed in Florida on a drug-related charge, has filed a $50 million damage suit against President Nixon.

In a suit filed in Licking County Common Pleas Court, Richard L. Heistand claims the President was indirectly responsible for him becoming an addict to forget the horrors of war.

Heistand said he was inducted into the Armed Forces in June 1968 and dishonorably discharged in July 1970.

The motto, "In God We Trust" owes its presence on U.S. coins largely to the increased religious sentiment existing during the Civil War.

Book Store Closed Down By Court Order

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Sale of magazines and films termed obscene has forced the closure of a Cincinnati book store.

Hamilton County Common Pleas Court Judge John W. Keefe ordered the Sin City Book Store closed Friday as a public nuisance.

Keefe gave the property owner, Catterson Realty Corp., 72 hours to evict its $1,000-a-month tenant.

Under law, the store could be locked for a year. However, Keefe allowed the realty firm an alternative of posting a $90,000 bond and compliance of the 72-hour notice. He also ruled the owners could not lease to similar book stores in the future.

Jenkins, Rangers Blast Twins

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer
"It takes the right kind of body, the right kind of arm and the right kind of mental approach," Ferguson Jenkins said of the requirements needed to be a successful workhorse pitcher.
He forgot to mention the right kind of support.
He's getting plenty in Texas—and the refugee from the Chicago Cubs' bandbox called Wrigley Field couldn't be happier.

"Never in baseball have I had 10 runs in back-to-back games," said the 30-year-old right-hander, who protected a one-run lead for five innings Friday night until the Rangers got him eight more in the eighth inning, pounding the Minnesota Twins 10-2. The Rangers carried him to a 10-2 victory over World Champion Oakland last Sunday.
In Friday's other American League games, Boston beat Cleveland 6-3, Baltimore defeated the New York Yankees 5-3, Oakland whipped California 5-1 and the Chicago White Sox edged Kansas City 5-4.

Rangers 10, Twins 2
Jim Fregosi's first home run of the season, a tie-breaking shot in the third inning off Bill Hands, put Jenkins on top and he maintained his tenuous perch until the Rangers got him gulps of breathing room with their outburst against two relievers. The big hits were Eric Sudberg's two-run triple off Tom Burgmeier and Alex Johnson's two-run single off Dan Fife.

Red Sox 6, Indians 3
Bernie Carbo's two-run homer in the first inning, a three-run third and some missed Cleveland opportunities carried Boston past the Indians.
Orioles 5, Yankees 3
Two-run homers by Tommy Davis and Al Bumbry and a solo shot by Mark Belanger gave Baltimore the firepower at the plate and Bob Reynolds kept the Yankees from reciprocating.
A's 5, Angels 1
Reggie Jackson hit his seventh homer of the season, tying Nettles for the major league lead, and Jim "Catfish" Hunter muffled California on seven hits in the A's victory. Jackson, who has driven in a major league-leading 21 runs in 12 games, hit a two-run shot in the third inning.

Big Red Machine Beats Padres

CINCINNATI (AP)—It looked like the Cincinnati Reds of old: Jack Billingham flirting with a shutout and the blazing bats of Tony Perez and Dave Concepcion keying an 8-0 lead. The Reds, searching for positive signs after their worst defeat in 3½ years, got them.

"I feel I've got my self straightened out," said Billingham, the poker-faced righthander who seldom mirrors his emotions. "I've got my rhythm back."

Billingham turned in eight strong innings Friday night as the Reds bounced back from Wednesday's humiliating 14-1 loss to Los Angeles with an 8-4 decision over the San Diego Padres.

Tigers End Slump, Beat WCH, 8-7

Circleville bounced out of its slump Friday edging Washington C. H. 8-7 on the Tiger diamond.

The win ended a 3-game losing streak for the Tigers baseball team and was the first in four league starts. The Red and Black now has a record of three wins and five losses.

It has been a busy week for Circleville, playing four games in five days and all four of them league contests. But they will get little rest with three games on tap next week. Monday they host Madison Plains, Wednesday they travel to Madison Plains and Friday they are back home to host Greenfield.

In Friday's game, Washington C. H. scored three runs in the top of the first inning, two in the fourth and two in the fifth.

Circleville tallied a pair in the first inning, then exploded for five in the second. The winning run came in the last half of the seventh inning.

Phil Roll walked and Brent Mancini was brought in to run for him. Mark Schere hit a shot to the Blue Lion shortstop that proved too hot for him to handle and Mancini and Sherer were both safe. Then Mike Speakman walked to load the bases. Perry Hoskins, with a full count on him, watched a fourth ball go wide of the plate and the winning run was walked in.

Randy Thomas was the winning pitcher. He went all the way, walking eight, fanning five and giving up six hits.

McCune and Dumford shared the mound duties for the Blue Lions. They walked 10, fanned four and allowed eight hits.

For Circleville, Phil Roll hit a double and a single, Perry Hoskins two singles. The longest hit of the game was a triple by Sparkman of Washington C. H.

Peter Oosterhuis Leading Monsanto Open With 63

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — First it was Bob Charles of New Zealand winning the Greensboro Open. Then it was Gary Player of South Africa winning the Masters.

And now it's Peter Oosterhuis of England, with a three-stroke lead in the Monsanto Open, trying to make it three victories in a row for foreign players on the American pro golf tour. "Maybe it's too early to start thinking of winning," the big, ruddy-faced young man said after his startling 63 in Friday's second round, "but I'd very much like to play in California."

That was a direct reference to next week's Tournament of Champions near San Diego. To become eligible for that elite event, Oosterhuis must win here. Only winners get to the T of C.

Oosterhuis' eight-under-par effort, bettered on the American tour only twice this season, gave him a 36-hole total of 133, nine under par on the tight little 6,679 yard Pensacola Country Club course.

Lee Elder, who had a 69 despite continued putting problems, was second in the chase for a $30,000 first prize with a 136 total. Elder has missed 23 putts of 15 feet or less in his two rounds and failed on six of them from seven feet or less Friday.

Rookie Pat FitzSimons, 69—137, first-round leader Forrest Fezler, who slipped to a 72—138, and Frank Beard, 68—138, followed.

Hubert Green, a two-time winner this year and pre-tourney favorite here, blazed into contention on a seven-under-par 64 that included a bogey six. He was six strokes back at 139.

Gary Player Pushes Nicklaus Record

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Gary Player has a chance to match Jack Nicklaus' title total in the World Series of Golf.

Player, whose victory in the Masters Championship earned him a berth in the World Series scheduled here Sept. 6-8, already holds three World Series crowns to Nicklaus' four.

105 Eligible For Series At Scioto Downs

The Galion, Ohio speedster, Galion Pam heads an impressive list of 105 three and four year old pacers nominated to 1974 Canadian-American Series, scheduled to be raced at Scioto Downs June 13.

Owned by Carl Weithman of Galion, Ohio, the four-year-old daughter of Adios Senator, was driven to her record of 1:58 by Bob Cheney last season.

Gene Reigle has an Ohio-owned trio of sidewheelers eligible in To The Queen, the Bret Hanover filly that won the Walnut Hall Filly stakes at Delaware for her record 2:01 1-5, Lady Break with a half mile track mark of 2:02 4-5, and Counselor J, the Buxton Hanover colt with a mark of 2:01 3-5.

The great Herve Filion, all-time leading race winning driver, has a pair of quick eligibles in Soky's Tiger, the one-eyed son of Best Of All, who currently holds the longest winning streak this year of ten straight at the eastern tracks, and Cheyenne Tomahawk with a five eights mile track record of 2:01.

The sport's all-time leading two minute mile driver Joe O'Brien has an outstanding pair in Meadow Micky at 1:58 4-5, and Armbr Oregon 2:01 3-5.

The 105 eligibles will start to qualify for the Can-Am final at Batavia Downs in New York on August 16, with the first leg of the series at Blue Bonnets Raceway at Montreal, Canada on May 5. Scioto Downs will host the sixth leg of the series on June 13. Scioto opens the 1974 season, May 17.

Lonborg, Phillies Top Cubs

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer
Pitch for Danny Ozark and you'll never go hungry ... if you're around the plate, that is.
The Philadelphia Phillies' manager rewards pitchers with free meals if they don't walk a batter while completing a game.
Jim Lonborg became the latest "meal ticket," so to speak, while beating the Chicago Cubs 9-2 Friday night.
"I know that a professional doesn't need incentive, but the meal makes you think," said Lonborg. "It forces you to put the hitter on the spot where he has to hit you."
While going to 3-2 counts on hitters,

Player Wins First Berth In World Series Of Golf

Precision iron play pulled South Africa's Gary Player out of the pack and into the green jacket emblematic of the winners of the Masters Championship last week at Augusta, Ga.
The victory, his second at Augusta, also gave the popular 5-8, 150-pounder the first berth in the $77,500 World Series of Golf, which will be played here Sept. 6-7-8 on the Firestone Country Club's famous South Course.
A three-time winner of the World Series, Player will be joined by the winners of the U.S. Open, the British Open and the PGA Championship as golf's most prestigious foursome competes for a $50,000 first prize.
The two-day, 36-hole event will be televised nationally by the National Broadcasting Corp., and will be co-produced by Cox Broadcasting Corp. of Atlanta, Ga.
Player was a charter member of the World Series of Golf, winning the PGA Championship in 1962 to join Jack

Wildcats Grab Lead In Big Ten

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Northwestern's Wildcats, idle in Big Ten play, took over undisputed possession of first place in the conference baseball race as Michigan State had to settle for a doubleheader split and drop into a tie for second place.
Michigan State dropped a 6-1 decision Friday to Minnesota but came back to win the nightcap 3-2 while Indiana climbed into a tie for second place with a doubleheader sweep over Purdue, 1-0 and 3-1.
Michigan defeated Iowa 11-2 and then lost 8-1 while Ohio State edged Illinois 5-4 in 12 innings and then lost the nightcap 6-1.
Indiana's double victory over Purdue boosted the Hoosiers into a second-place tie with Michigan State with a 4-2 record.
Northwestern leads the pack with a 3-1 mark while Wisconsin, Illinois, defending champion Minnesota and Iowa are bunched up with 2-2 marks.

Hoosiers Beat Ohio

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The question is: Can the Indiana College Basketball All-Stars beat the Ohio All-Star team again tonight with coach Bobby Knight playing musical ball-players one more time?
The Indiana team stopped Ohio 97-83 here Friday night in the first of this year's two Sertoma Charities, Inc., games. The two teams meet again tonight at Ohio State's St. John Arena in Columbus.
Knight, head coach at Indiana University and also an Ohio State graduate, said, "In a game like this the primary object is to let everybody play—not beating somebody."
"The guys are out here donating their time to charity and they ought to play," Knight added.
Of course, his team did beat somebody—a pretty good Ohio team that suddenly went cold from the floor in the second half after shooting 52 per cent in the first 20 minutes. Meanwhile, Indiana shot 54 per cent for the game and won going away.
Shooting definitely was the difference in what Ohio coach Jim Burson, from Muskingum College, called a "run and gun" series. Purdue's 6-foot-6 forward Frank Kendrick hit 10 of 18 shots from the field and wound up with a game-high 27 points and Steve Platt, a 6-5 forward and the nation's leading collegiate scorer in 1974, added 14 on seven of 11 gunning.

Lonborg had food as well as baseball on his mind.
"I thought to myself, 'I can't walk this guy or I'll lose the dinners,'" said Lonborg. "I love to eat and so does my wife. It was an interesting second thought."
While issuing no walks, Lonborg struck out three batters and gave up seven hits to win his first game of the season after a loss.
Elsewhere in the National League, the Houston Astros beat the Atlanta Braves 8-2; the Cincinnati Reds trimmed the San Diego Padres 8-4; the Montreal Expos nipped the St. Louis Cardinals 5-4 and the San Francisco Giants turned back the Los Angeles

Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer in the inaugural competition.
He tied with Palmer for second place that year, but he hasn't finished anywhere but at the top in his three appearances since.
He won the U.S. Open and crushed a field which included Nicklaus, Dave Marr and Peter Thomson to win the $50,000 top prize in 1965; he won the British Open and edged veteran Julius Boros by one shot to claim the WSOG title in 1968; and in 1972 he won the PGA Championship and turned back a cast of Nicklaus, Lee Trevino and Gay Brewer to record his third triumph.
In becoming eligible for the World Series of Golf for the fifth time, Player has the opportunity to match Nicklaus in WSOG titles. Nicklaus has been dominant in the event, winning four times in nine appearances.
Nicklaus has earnings of $263,750 in nine trips to Akron, while Player lists $162,500 for his four appearances in the event. No other player has earned more than $50,000.
In fact, the only golfers to claim the title besides Nicklaus and Player are Charles Coody, the late Tony Lema, Gene Litter, Orville Moody and Tom Weiskopf, who outlasted Johnny Miller and Nicklaus to win last year.

CHS Golfers Win Match

The Circleville High School Golf team defeated Washington C. H. 155-181 Friday at Pickaway Country Club.
Jeff Spires was medalist for the day collecting six pars and one bird. Terry Spellacy carded a 38, also parring six holes.
Jeff Bohenko shot a 39, Jim England a 42 and Mike Currie a 45.
For Washington C. H., D. Boswell scored a 42, D. Garringer a 44, D. Butterfield a 48, D. Dean a 47 and M. Stanforth a 48.
Monday Circleville will host St. Charles and Hillsboro at Pickaway Country Club.

Dodgers 5-4. Rain washed out a game between the Pittsburgh Pirates and New York Mets.
Astros 8, Braves 2
Houston's Tommy Helms blasted a two-run homer in the fourth inning and the Astros exploded for three more runs in the sixth to beat Atlanta.
Reds 8, Padres 4
Dave Concepcion drove in three runs and Tony Perez clouted a home run, leading Cincinnati over San Diego.
The Reds, who snapped a three-game losing streak, struck for two runs in the first inning. Pete Rose, Joe Morgan and Concepcion singled for one run and Morgan came home on Merv Rettenmund's grounder off Randy Jones, 0-4.
Expos 5, Cardinals 4
Ken Singleton hit a two-run double and rookie Barry Foote slugged a home run to power Montreal to its victory over St. Louis.
Foote's leadoff homer in the sixth inning off St. Louis starter John Curtis, 1-1, gave the Expos a 5-1 lead they needed to withstand a three-run Cardinal rally in the seventh inning and extend their winning streak to five games.
Giants 5, Dodgers 4
Chris Speier's bases-loaded single highlighted a four-run seventh inning that carried San Francisco over Los Angeles despite Don Sutton's one-hit pitching for six innings.

A GOOD CATCH—Hunter Certain, 202 Logan St., caught these three large mouth bass at Hargus Lake this week. He hooked 22 others that he returned to the lake. Certain was using rooster tails and rubber night crawlers.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SUNDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Stellar aspects not entirely friendly. Much will depend upon your adaptability, willingness to alter schedules, revise plans, etc. Don't follow false leads.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): You may face some complex situations now, some unexpected obstacles, so anticipate them — but with composure and preparedness, not anxiety. Do not make hasty decisions.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Your thoughts finally jell on a project you've been contemplating. You "put it all together," as they say, and results will prove it.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): You should have no trouble carrying out necessary requirements, but this is no time to take on "extras" or to scatter energies. In general, stick to routine.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Differences of opinion need not result in rifts. Get together with those concerned and, with calmness and your innate sense of humor, iron things out.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Don't neglect past fine efforts through thoughtlessness. Attend to all affairs in a quiet, dispassionate manner. Personal relationships should prove rewarding.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Tact and the utmost discretion needed now. Your approach to others will be most important. In all situations, display good sportsmanship.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): Good influences! Activities should be handled evenly so as not to lap over too much in any direction. Start with a suitable tempo — and maintain it!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): An "on-and-off" day, but you should come through handsomely if you stress your quietly clever manner of handling situations and your tact in dealing with others.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Look for the "loopholes" that trick needlessly; be alert to misrepresentation; sift carefully for truths. Once sure you are on the right track, make your moves — confidently.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Face realities and correct deficiencies in your schedule as promptly as possible. But don't jump to hasty conclusions. A thorough study of details needed.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): It may take longer to get things rolling than anticipated, but keep at it. And with no letdown in enthusiasm! Romance in high favor.

Airlines May Cut Atlantic Flights

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's two largest international airlines have been given permission to work out a plan to share revenues and operations on transatlantic routes.

The Civil Aeronautics Board announced Friday that it had approved the discussions between Trans World Airlines and Pan American World Airways, although it noted that it could still reject the final plan when presented.

Such pooling of operations is in violation of federal antitrust laws, but the CAB has the power to exempt airlines from those laws when it deems it necessary.

Both airlines have requested federal relief both through the revenue sharing proposal and from subsidies, claiming they are losing huge amounts of money on their foreign operations.

CAB spokesmen noted that the move might result in a reduction of available flights between the U. S. and Europe and a Pan Am spokesman acknowledged the possibility.

However, pooling could mean that travelers will have more departure times to choose from because competing carriers might not have flights leaving at the same time, said the Pan Am spokesman.

TWA says it has lost $62.6 million since January with more than half the loss caused by rising jet fuel costs. A spokesman added that a slump in transatlantic passenger travel slashed revenues for the quarter. He said transatlantic travel was down 11 per cent in January and 20.7 per cent in February.

The CAB order gives the two carriers the authority to discuss consolidation of operations and sharing of revenues and services on routes between eight U.S. airports and five European points. Cities that would be affected are Baltimore-Washington, Boston, Chicago, Detroit, Los Angeles, New York, Philadelphia, San Francisco, London, Paris, Rome, Frankfurt and Lisbon.

Meanwhile, the CAB also approved a 10 per cent fare increase for flights between the U.S. mainland and the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico. The rise is effective Monday and would increase the price of a coach ticket from New York to Puerto Rico from $166 to $182.60.

Sailor Fights Cancer; Navy MD's Made Mistake

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Timothy Nunley, a 19-year-old sailor, is fighting for his life against cancer that Navy doctors failed to diagnose despite his repeated pleas for help.

"He has suffered living hell," said his mother, Mrs. Robert Nunley of Jacksonville. "And it wouldn't have been necessary if the Navy doctors had listened to him when he told them he was sick."

A Navy spokesman issued a statement saying Navy doctors failed to diagnose the disease and that "appropriate disciplinary and corrective action has been taken."

Lt. Cmdr. Harold Torrance, a Navy public information officer, said "the illness which he has can be difficult to diagnose." He said Nunley has received the best possible medical care since the diagnosis and his progress was most encouraging.

Mrs. Nunley said Navy doctors described the cancer as a variety occurring only in men, starting in infancy and not recognizable until maturity.

She said a nonmalignant tumor was removed from her son's breast at age 13. Another appeared on the other breast a few years later, but a private doctor advised against removing it.

Nunley passed a Navy induction physical last September and was sent to boot camp in Orlando. Nunley reported on sick call while there, his mother said.

"Other lumps began to appear," she said. "There was one on a testicle, then another on his abdomen."

He went to other doctors at Mayport Naval Station near Jacksonville when home on leave and to doctors at Great Lakes Naval Station near Chicago after being assigned there.

"He had lost 40 pounds, had a three-inch mass sticking out from his abdomen, his vision was blurred and he couldn't eat," Mrs. Nunley said. "But the doctor at Great Lakes told him there was nothing wrong with him except in his head and warned 'don't come back here.'"

Mrs. Nunley said she then complained in a letter to the Navy. On Jan. 11, the Navy ordered a thorough examination for Seaman Appren. Nunley at Great Lakes.

"Doctors then told us he had terminal cancer, but if they had caught it in time, he could have had a long, healthy life," Mrs. Nunley said. "They gave him two weeks to live."

But she said treatments at Jacksonville kept him alive for the last 3½ months and X rays show the cancer getting smaller.

"I'm going to fool them all," Nunley said Friday. "I'm going to beat it."

Hoffa Raps U.S. Prison System

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — James R. Hoffa, former president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, says "Judges should be required to serve one year in jail to learn how to be humane."

He made the remark Friday in addressing the Cleveland City Club on prison reform.

Hoffa has been an advocate of such reform since spending about four years in a federal prison on a conviction of mail fraud and jury tampering charges.

He said judges should grant probation for first offenders in non-violent crime, arguing that it would be better for them to be out making a living for their families than to be confined in prisons "that aren't fit for humans."

Hoffa also suggested:

—Classification of prisoners before they are confined, saying that would prevent the mixing of first offenders with hardened criminals.

—Reduction of prison populations to eliminate overcrowding.

—The hiring of qualified psychiatrists to work with prisoners requiring such help.

—Rehabilitation, including schooling, to enable an inmate to leave prison better qualified than when he went in.

Tornado Recovery Work Progresses

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — Recovery efforts from tornadoes earlier this month in Ohio moved from the emergency phase to the rehabilitation period as eight more counties were declared state disaster areas, officials said.

"We're beginning to see a decline in requests for aid from victims," said Norman Steinlauf, deputy coordinator of the Federal Disaster Assistance Administration for Ohio. "Now it's long hours of hard work."

Meanwhile, Gov. John J. Gilligan declared Clark, Delaware, Fayette, Franklin, Pickaway, Paulding, Putnam and Summit counties disaster areas so that residents would be eligible for unemployment assistance.

Fourteen counties have been declared disaster areas since tornadoes touched down in parts of southwestern Ohio April 3, killing 39.

Unemployment relief checks were placed in the mail this week to victims of the tornadoes, said William E. Ganes, administrator of the state Bureau of Employment Services.

The special payments are made to persons unable to work or get to work because of the destruction. The pay ranges from $59 to $114 a week.

More one-stop disaster centers were opened today. The federal disaster unit expanded into Adams and Paulding counties.

Already, 5,387 families or individuals have applied for federal assistance, Steinlauf said. The bulk was in Xenia where 4,173 registered.

"We're pleased with our progress, but we're not satisfied and we won't be until our job here is done," he said.

Steinlauf said 493 families, or 30 per cent of those eligible, have received temporary shelter from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The Small Business Administration is working on home and personal loans totaling $554,084, he said. Applications from businesses for loans total $534,900.

The U.S. Agriculture Department has approved $234,476 in food stamps for 2,094 eligible families, he said.

Federal disaster officials now estimate damage to public buildings and facilities such as roads at more than $37 million.

Deputy Holt Investigates Accidents

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Lawrence Holt investigated two injury accidents Friday.

Transported to Fayette Memorial Hospital for minor injuries was William Alva Hill II, 23, Route 1, Mt. Sterling, when he was involved in a single-car accident, 8 p.m. Friday, while fleeing Park Patrolman Frank Woods.

Woods was pursuing Hill, when Hill went through a barricade at the intersection of Larry-Waterloo Road.

Seventeen-year-old Randy Deam Brooks, 17, Route 5, was cited for reckless operation, when he was involved in a single-car accident 11:30 p.m. Friday.

Brooks, traveling east on State Route 56, reached to pick up a cigarette when he went off the road striking a telephone pole.

Tonya D. Johnson, 17, Laurelville, passenger in the auto, was treated and released at Berger Hospital for bruises.

Brooks was treated and released for lacerations to the arm and multiple abrasions.

Extinguish Auto Fire

The Circleville Fire Department extinguished a fire in an automobile owned by Fred Archer, 1015 Sunshine, last evening at 7:15 p.m. A short in the electrical wiring under the hood caused the car to catch fire at the Route 22 and 56 intersection.

Estimated loss to the automobile was determined by firemen at $100.

Two Youths Convicted Of Theft

Two Circleville youths convicted of shoplifting at Buckeye Mart were among the ten cases terminated with the Pickaway County Juvenile Court this past week. Judge Guy G. Cline placed the 15-year-old boy and the 11-year-old girl on probation for one year for the theft charge.

Consuming alcoholic beverages brought charges against two Route 1, Williamsport boys, ages 16 and 17. The older boy was also charged with violation of probation. The court suspended a sentence to the Ohio Youth Commission and ordered both boys into detention for ten days.

A case was terminated with the Pickaway County Children's Services because the 13-year-old girl has left the area and is living with her parents.

Two 18-year-old girls were released from probation. Their age coupled with the fact that one is living with her sister and the other is working led to their release.

A 16-year-old Ashville girl and her 15-year-old sister were released from probation sentenced to them on original charges of school truancy. The court found that they were now attending school regularly.

The court dismissed a case against a 15-year-old Route 1, Kingston girl after she had served her probation for home truancy.

Malpractice Suit Filed

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A Bay Village woman filed a $2.5 million suit against the government Friday in connection with the death of her husband in a Dayton Veterans Administration hospital.

The suit filed on behalf of Joanne Porcella alleges that her husband, James, died in July 1972 because of negligence and malpractice by the hospital and the doctor who operated to repair the man's aorta artery.

The suit says Porcella died after the operation as a result of bleeding from improperly inserted stitches.

Mrs. Porcella's attorney, Edward Stillman, said doctors never diagnosed the bleeding, and the 43-year-old Porcella died six weeks after the operation.

He said the Veterans Administration rejected a wrongful death claim last week.

Costly Airliner Guttled By Fire

BOSTON (AP) — Fire gutted an empty Trans World Airlines jumbo jet early today as it stood parked at a gate at Logan International Airport.

There were no injuries and cause of the fire was not determined.

The fire apparently started in an auxiliary power unit at the tail of the plane and raced forward through the wide-bodied aircraft, TWA officials said.

The three-engine Lockheed L1011, with a seating capacity of 350, was worth about $22 million, said Phil Havran, a spokesman for the Massachusetts Port Authority.

He named Joseph P. Gorman of Youngstown, Barbara H. Burke of McDermott and Frederick C. Miller of Sylvania to the board.

Renamed was Bruce E. Goetaman of Cincinnati and Helen Janes Vanmeter of Piketon to the same panel.
